

Customized Low-Voltage Complete Equipment in Singapore

AI Overview

Singapore offers a range of providers for customized low-voltage electrical systems, including switchboards, motor control centers, and distribution boards, with full design, manufacturing, and integration services.

Key Providers and Services

- System Technic Engineering Pte Ltd System Technic specializes in maintenance, servicing, and testing of electrical installations, including low-voltage switchboards, transformers, and power cables. They provide reliable electrical utility solutions to ensure uninterrupted power supply for industrial and commercial premises, with over 30 years of experience in Singapore.
- Inter Power Engineering Pte Ltd Inter Power Engineering focuses on customized design, manufacture, and installation of low-voltage switchboards, motor control panels, and automation systems. Their products comply with IEC 61439-1 & 2 standards and use components from internationally recognized manufacturers, making them suitable for high-performance industrial applications.
- M&I Electric Far East Pte Ltd M&I Electric is a panel builder and system integrator offering custom-built low-voltage systems such as switchboards, motor control centers, and distribution boards. They provide cost-effective, reliable solutions and are a Cubic Partner for IEC61439 Type Tested Switchgear and Controlgear, ensuring safety and compliance. Their services include engineering design, project management, and timely delivery across multiple industries.
- Schneider Electric Singapore Schneider Electric provides a comprehensive range of low-voltage electrical distribution products, including circuit breakers, panel boards, switchboards, motor starters, and power monitoring systems. They offer modular and scalable solutions suitable for both commercial and industrial applications, with a focus on safety and reliability.
