

High-density outdoor server racks in the UK

AI Overview

High-density outdoor server racks in the UK are available with IP55 weatherproofing, 19-inch mounting profiles, and heights up to 42U, suitable for telecom, 5G, and edge computing applications. Overview Outdoor server racks are designed to protect IT, networking, and telecom equipment from weather, dust, and unauthorized access while maintaining high-density storage. They are commonly used for edge computing, 5G deployments, and roadside network installations. UK suppliers offer both wall-mounted and floor-standing options, with customizable dimensions, ventilation, and security features. Key Specifications IP Rating: Most outdoor racks are IP55, making them dustproof and resistant to water spray. Mounting: Standard 19-inch rack profiles for servers, switches, UPS, and patch panels. Height: Available from 6U to 42U, with high-density options like 32U and 42U for maximum equipment capacity. Depth and Width: Typical dimensions include 600mm x 600mm or 600mm x 800mm, with deeper cabinets for larger equipment. Load Capacity: Outdoor racks can support up to 120kg or more depending on the model. Ventilation: Built-in fans and front ventilation holes prevent overheating, with options for thermostatically controlled heating for extreme climates. Security: Lockable doors, welded steel construction, and optional side panels ensure equipment safety. Suppliers in the UK Server Room Environments – Offers bespoke outdoor cabinets with IP55 protection, galvanised steel construction, and heights up to 36U. They provide custom paint, ventilation, and heating options. Serrack24.com – Provides 6U to 42U outdoor wallmount and floor-standing racks with pre-installed fans, lockable doors, and IP55 rating. High-density models include 32U and 42U cabinets with depths up to 800mm. Netceed UK – Specializes in high-density optical distribution fr...
