

Irish network cabinet manufacturer

AI Overview

Ireland has several reputable manufacturers and suppliers of network and server cabinets, including RWL Advanced Solutions, Wood Communications, Satecity.ie, DCT Limited, and Cable Monkey. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers RWL Advanced Solutions offers a wide range of cabinets, from standard comms cabinets to full load-rated server cabinets, including bespoke cooled cabinets tailored to client requirements. They also provide open racks, cable management solutions, and hot/cold aisle containment systems, emphasizing versatility and sustainability in their designs. Wood Communications is a leading Irish distributor of networking products, including data and server cabinets. They focus on delivering solutions on time and within budget, supporting both small and large-scale networking projects across Ireland and mainland Europe. Satecity.ie specializes in secure comms and data cabinets suitable for offices, server rooms, and data centers. Their offerings include wall-mounted and floor-standing cabinets with lockable doors, cable management, and ventilation, designed for patch panels, switches, and routers. They provide nationwide delivery and competitive pricing. DCT Limited manufactures and installs hot and cold aisle containment, server racks, security caging, and custom data center solutions. They work with global brands like CPI, Rittal, and All-Rack, providing both standard and highly customized cabinets and containment systems for co-location and hyperscale data centers. Cable Monkey stocks a broad range of data and server cabinets, including wall-mounted and full-specification server racks. They also supply accessories such as cable management, thermal management, shelving, and PDUs, with many products available for next-day delivery. Considerations for Choosing a Supplier Customization: Some suppliers like RWL and DCT offer bespoke solutions for specific cooling or security requirements. Delivery and Support: Satecity.ie and Cable Monkey provide fast nationwide delivery and technical support. Scale: Wood Commu...
