

Price quote for French electrical distribution box enclosures

AI Overview

In France, complete electrical distribution boxes typically range from €200 for small residential units to over €2,000 for industrial-grade, pre-wired enclosures.

Price Overview The cost of a distribution box depends on several factors including size, material, internal components, and application. Basic residential units made of ABS plastic or standard steel can start around €200–€400, while more robust, pre-wired industrial or commercial boxes with stainless steel enclosures, high-quality circuit breakers, surge protectors, and busbars can exceed €1,500–€2,000. Outdoor or weather-resistant units generally carry a premium due to enhanced durability and IP ratings.

Factors Affecting Price

- Material: ABS plastic is cheaper, powder-coated steel is mid-range, and stainless steel is the most expensive, especially for corrosive environments.
- Internal Components: Empty boxes are less expensive; adding high-quality breakers, fuses, and busbars increases the cost significantly.
- Customization: French suppliers like CENCO offer custom-built enclosures tailored to industrial, construction, or event applications, which can affect pricing.
- Certifications and Safety: Compliance with European standards (EN 61558, IEC, UL) and integration of protective devices from recognized brands can increase costs.
- Installation and Maintenance: Professional installation is recommended for safety and code compliance, adding to the overall investment.

Supplier Options in France

- CENCO: Offers a wide range of standard and custom pre-wired boxes, suitable for industrial, construction, and tertiary sectors. Products are assembled and tested in France, incorporating high-quality protective equipment.
- NUOMAK: Provides guidance on selecting durable and reliable distribution boxes, emphasizing long-term value and safety.
