

Price quote for imported explosion-proof maintenance distribution boxes

AI Overview

The average import price for explosion-proof distribution boxes is approximately $1,938.78 per unit, with costs varying based on specifications, materials, and order volume. Price Overview Imported explosion-proof distribution boxes typically range around $1,900–$2,000 per unit for standard models, according to US Customs import data . Prices can fluctuate depending on: Material: Stainless steel, aluminum, or fiberglass enclosures affect durability, corrosion resistance, and weight . Certifications: ATEX, IECEx, or UL compliance may increase cost due to testing and regulatory requirements . Customization: OEM branding, modular configurations, IP ratings, and cable entry modifications can raise the price . Order Volume: Bulk purchases often reduce per-unit costs, while small orders or custom designs may be more expensive . Supplier Options Several suppliers and manufacturers offer imported explosion-proof distribution boxes: Alibaba: Provides a wide range of explosion-proof boxes suitable for oil, gas, chemical, and marine industries, with options for bulk orders and custom specifications . Warom Technology: Offers high-performance industrial automation and electrical control solutions, with direct quote requests available for imported units . go4WorldBusiness: Connects buyers with verified suppliers for wholesale purchases, allowing negotiation for best prices . Key Considerations for Importing Hazard Classification: Ensure the box matches the environment (Class I for gases, Class II for dust, Class III for fibers) and T-rating for temperature compatibility . Material Selection: Stainless steel is ideal for chemical or marine environments, aluminum for lightweight outdoor installations, and fiberglass for EMI-sensitive areas . Delivery and Lead Time: Standard stock items may ship quickly, but custom orders can take longer depending on factory capacity . Regulator...
